Consulting

Visioning, staff structuring, missioning, conflict resolution....these are common areas of consulting. Our approach is more contextually-specific than some, listening deeply to discern the need and preferred outcome, before designing an approach. Since we are an ecumenical Christian organization, we consult with churches and denominational groups from any Christian tradition. Dan Holloway is Consulting Team Leader. Learn more on our website

Transforming Church Initiatives

How do churches become adaptive organizations, joining God's mission of transformation in relevant ways? They need a process. That's what TCIs are, substantive processes for cultivating adaptive transformation. Most include learning experiences, small group studies, videos, and lots of facilitation. Examples are: Making The Shift, ReShaping Church, Same Faith: New Journey, Farming Church. Contact Mark Tidsworth to explore and see on our website

Interim Transitions

Though we have done this work for years, we are elevating these services through coaching interim pastors, training interims and churches, and consulting during the interim transition.
